

Media Release

Immediate Release

August 12, 2010

Safe School Activists Gather in London

"140,000 students who attend publicly funded schools in Ontario do not feel safe at school."

Corina Morrison, Co-founder, London Anti-Bullying Coalition

The London Anti-Bullying Coalition (LABC) was asked to gather a number of Safe School activists from the region to meet with Mr. Tim Hudak, leader of the Ontario PC Party. Representatives from Bullying Canada, Bruce-Grey Citizens for Education, the York Region Anti-Bullying Coalition, LABC, parents/caregivers/teachers and Parents for Mental Health were in attendance.

The meeting held on Wednesday, Aug, 4, 2010 at the Four Points Sheraton Hotel in London, provided an opportunity to share our concerns about the safety of students in Ontario. Discussions focused on the problem for students who are unsafe, and our vision for safe schools for all. We continue to advocate for changes in our province that will render all students safe to learn.

For more information please contact:

Corina Morrison (London Anti-Bullying Coalition)

519-473-5214

Lesa McDougall (Bruce-Grey Citizens for Education)

519-334-3822